

Submit your film to the animation competition!

Apply to the Black Horse of Animation competition as part of Ars Independent 2023 with your animated film.

We invite individual authors and authors, as well as schools, collectives and studios who are close to the idea of searching for something new in the medium, to participate in the competition. We are looking for animated short films (up to 30 minutes) that are student productions, debuts or second films.

– I wouldn't be surprised if trucks of a certain brand of drinks appeared on TV soon in the "getting closer to Christmas" mode. We will anticipate them by announcing the December celebration now: the Black Horse of Animation Competition 2023! As usual, we are calling for thematically bold, visually unusual pearls of a short form. Creators send your creations, viewers get ready for December! – adds Gaba Palicka, animation curator at the festival.

Entries are accepted using the form available online at arsindependent.pl until September 10, 2023.

The productions qualified for the competition will compete for the title of the Black Horse of Animation during the December edition of Ars Independent 2023. You can win a prize of €500, awarded as a result of audience voting.

The date of the December edition of the festival will be announced soon.
